September Tea

TCNF members Jerry Popp and daughter, Catherine Bryant in a silver TR 8, Norm & Sue Reimer in a Jag, Jody Mons in a TR Caddy, Angelo & Anitra Guzman in green TR 6 and yours truly Barbara & Walter Lanz in a TR Explorer with a British flag license plate set off from a gas station at the foot of the Dames Point Bridge at 1:15 pm, Sept. 15th. The day was hot as Charles & Elyse Vincent joined us in their yellow TR 6 from their driveway. Jerry & Catherine were untouched by a brief sprinkling of rain.

Passing ornate wrought iron gates and a spacious veranda, we entered the stately Williams House Victorian mansion along with Mike & Debra Sullivan (red TR 3), Ron & Mary Ellen Watz and Dave & Kelly Finkelstein (red Spitfire) and divided into two groups - one in the red & gold dining room and one in the parlor where tables were set with pressed linens, silver and fine china. Crystal chandeliers, fireplaces, antiques and spectacular craftsmanship dominated the rooms.

Darjeeling and Mango teas were served by the inn keepers Deborah & Byron McCutchen. They brought out fluffy pineapple scones with Devonshire cream and orange marmalade, rosemary biscuits with country ham, crab puffs, bacon tomato rounds on potato bread, Creme Fraiche tarts with fresh berries, cucumber sandwiches with mint butter, rum meringues, raspberry and lemon curd tarts while we relaxed and enjoyed pleasant conversation in elegant surroundings. So civilized!

Deborah told us about the history of the home. Jefferson Davis, when president of the Confederacy, stayed at the estate. It was headquarters and infirmary for the Union soldiers and was used as a halfway house for runaway slaves. One of the owners had nine children. I imagined hearing their laughter as they raced around the house.

We then had a tour of the upstairs Egmont Indigo Suite. It was spacious, lovely in blue, with a bay window sitting area, fireplace and veranda facing the street. It was featured in Woman's Day Walls and Windows.

Sadly, it was time to go. Jody took goodies home to Greg Currat who was under the weather and unable to attend. Charles & Elyse left to tour Centre Street. Barbara & Walt and Sue & Norm headed to Dave & Kelly's new home under construction for an inspection. It is very spacious and passed with flying colors. You will get to see it at the Christmas Party.

Tally Ho! from Barbara. I have something different in mind for next year and hope to see everyone there.
